http://www.nc.uk.net/	Website containing the National Curriculum.
http://www.primaryresources.co.uk/	A site recommended by School Teachers. Fun yet detailed, it covers a wide range of subjects and has entertaining activity sheets which can be used as lesson guides.
http://www.literacylessons.co.uk/	This site contains free literacy lessons planned according to the National Literacy Strategy for fiction, non-fiction, poetry and playscripts for Key Stage 2 and Key Stage 3.
http://www.eslcafe.com/	Dave's ESL (English as a Second language) café. This is "the internet meeting place for ESL teachers and students from around the world". Possibly the activities are geared more towards older students, but it's a good site to browse for ideas and tips from other teachers.
http://www.onestopenglish.com/	Another TEFL-based (teaching English as a foreign language) site, but better organised lesson plans to sift through.
http://www.teachingenglish.org.uk/	Lots of downloads and advice about story telling.
http://www.learnenglish.org.uk/	A lovely website, with a good "print and do" section for kids.
http://www.teachingideas.co.uk/	Mainly for Key Stages 1 and 2- lots of advice on all subjects (even PE!)
www.bbc.co.uk/schools	BBC website covering all ages, with useful 'bitesize' revision part for exams
http://www.teachernet.gov.uk/	In-depth website with many areas of interest.
